Another Day by Willy Kelly

There's fire in the sky beyond the hill
The moon she watches by as the fire grows
The stars silent, retire because they know…

It's another day…
It's another day…
It's another day…
It's another day…

And so yesterday's sun will shine today
And trees so tall and still will find friends
In birds who want to sing their song again

It's another day…
It's another day…
It's another day…
It's another day…
